SUMMARY

I am married and have one child. Currently, I am a full time student at Ball State University. My situation is different from most of the other undergraduates. Prior to attending Ball State, I had taken classes at Ivy Tech while participating in an apprenticeship program for construction. These various programs have given me a varied set of skills. I have been able to apply these assorted group of characteristics to the real world in different ways. These programs have helped to set me in the direction I am heading these days. These situations have made me realize exactly what I want to do for the rest of my life.

HOBBIES & INTERESTS

I love to travel. Getting to know other cultures, and ways of life, is a passion of mine. I have traveled to many different countries, and different parts of the world. My wife is actually from Argentina and I have been to this country multiple times. My passion for travel is part of the reason I would like a job that allows me to work remotely. This is a major reason I decided to pursue computer science.
